

EDI Submitter Self-Test System Maintenance

Molina will be performing maintenance on the EDI Submitter Self-Test System this Friday 12/11/15 beginning at noon CST and ending at approximately 5 p.m. CST.

This will impact only Trading Partners that are testing EDI transactions.

Test files sent during this maintenance window will produce a TA1; however, the 999, test 835 and CP reports will be delayed until maintenance is completed. After maintenance is completed, any files that were received during the testing timeframe will be processed through the remainder of the dataflow.

This maintenance activity does not impact Production transactions.
