

CHAPTER 48: FAMILY PLANNING – TAKE CHARGE PLUSSECTION 48.5 RECORD KEEPING*PAGE(S) 2*RECORD KEEPING

Records must be maintained in an organized and standardized format and comply with accepted medical record keeping standards. All records must be retained for a period of six years from the date the beneficiary was last treated. In the case of an audit, the records must be maintained until the audit is complete, even if the six years is exceeded.

Refer to chapter one of the Medicaid Services Manual (General Information and Administration) for more information regarding record keeping.

Content and Organization of the Medical Record

The records must contain sufficient information to identify the beneficiary, indicate contact information, justify clinical diagnosis, and warrant the treatment and end results. The required content includes the following:

- Personal data;
- Medical history, physical exam, clinical findings, diagnostic/laboratory orders, results, and treatment;
- Scheduled follow-up visits when necessary;
- Telephone encounters of a clinical nature;
- Documentation of continuing care, referral, and follow up;
- Signed informed consent;
- Signed refusal of services;
- Allergies and drug reactions; and
- Entries by counseling and social service staff.
